New Volatile Vapor

in Winter Union Gasoline STARTS COLD MOTORS INSTANTLY!

Every Car Operated in Western Canada This Winter Needs New Volatile Vapor. Fill up at the Blue and White Union Pumps.

Introduction of the New Volatile Vapor into Union Gasoline to provide a superior Winter motor fuel is announced today by the UNION OIL COMPANY OF CANADA, LIMITED.

This Volatile Vapor is attained through a special refining process. It insures quick-starting on the cold, slump mornings of the Coast, or in sub-zero temperatures. In fact "Anti-kick" is WINTER UNION rated.

No Loss of Mileage. Although extra volatility generally means quicker gasoline consumption, Volatile Vapor and service tests show that Volatile Vapor in Winter Union shows no loss of mileage. Whatever mileage you have been getting with Summer Union will be obtained with you in Winter Union fuel with an added pump.

No Fading. There is NO "fading," "choking," "holding in the carburetor" or "vapor lock" with Winter Union. The special refining process controls this tendency even on mid-days. New Volatile Vapor is self-contained in the liquid gasoline until released at the carburetor jet.

Runway Oldfield, famous racing driver, says that the new Volatile Vapor feature makes Winter Union the finest winter gasoline for Western Canadian motorists.

No Increase in Price. New Winter Union with its Volatile Vapor is ready today—at NO EXTRA COST. Watch for the Blue and White Pumps of the Union Oil Company of Canada Limited with the gaily decorative strings of flags. Stop there at this Winter.

Made in Canada. Canadian men and women are employed by the Union Oil Company of Canada Limited, which has a large investment in Western Canada, buys Canadian materials and thus contributes to the prosperity of your own community.

IS WASHINGTON IN TO STAY?

It is significant, and may be of practical importance in the future, that the United States sought the assistance of the League of Nations when a question of preserving peace in a quagmire of the world in which United States interests were particularly concerned.

The republic has stayed out of the League of Nations, which it had a perfect right to do, so long as the League was occupied mainly in trying to keep the peace in Europe from flying at each other's throats. But when it became a question of allowing Japan to occupy and perhaps eventually annex a large territory on the continent of Asia, and thus gain a corridor to the Pacific, and thus gain a commercial and military power, Washington became at once interested, and secured the admission of a United States representative to the meetings of the Council at Geneva.

Having "sat in" on this occasion, when League assistance was needed to back up Washington's efforts to keep peace in one part of the world, there is ground to hope that consistency will compel the United States to associate itself with the peace-making efforts of the League in other quarters. To seek and obtain virtual supremacy rights in the League, and to resist to accept the same measure of responsibility in the Balkans or in the Franco-Italian border, would put the republic in a peculiar position before the world.

BRITAIN'S CONFUSION OF TONGUES

The voters of Great Britain have seen some curious election campaigns, but surely none more strange than that with which the National Government is appealing for their support.

Challenged by the movement and by riotous mobs in the great centres of population as to its right to govern, the Government took the proper course in dissolving parliament and asking for a vote of confidence directly from the polls. But it should have gone to the polls with a statement and consistent policy, and asked for a verdict on that policy alone.

Instead, the Government has gone to the country as an association of inconsistent factions, standing for no one knows exactly what, and asking for approval on the ground that they may possibly do something or something the voter happens to want to do.

Premier MacDonald says he is willing to "consider" any and every proposal, tariffs included, to stabilize the economic structure. Mr. Baldwin and his Tory associates are openly and vigorously proclaiming a tariff as the one and only means of pulling the country through the slough. The Liberal and Labour contingents are just "talking at large."

Instead of a definite, clear-cut program for the extension of trade, the expansion of employment, and the restoration of British commercial prestige and industrial well-being, the voters are being assailed by a babel of manifestoes which can only be called a confusion of tongues. It is as if the conditions should be met. And through the fog of language looms the outline of a "T" plot to take the National Government as a stalking horse to attain power.

All this of course is no business of Canadians, except as the "T" plot has interest in the affairs of their kinsmen, and are concerned for possible reactions upon the solidarity of the Empire. But if decided counsel among ministers is a weakness in Britain, as it is in Canada, the National Government is giving Arthur Henderson and his Socialists a chance to win that they did not have two weeks ago.

WHERE POTATOES CAN'T BE BOUGHT

In another column appears a letter from a resident of Kincaid, Saskatchewan, that should engage the attention of every reader in this favored part of the west. The writer describes what occurred there last week, when a carload of potatoes was offered for sale by the Relief Commission, the official body that is handling the distribution of supplies in the dried out area. People were waiting in line at six o'clock in the morning for the car to be opened, farmers having driven long distances to get a few bags of desperately needed potatoes. But the supply was altogether out of keeping with the need, the carload was snapped up quickly, and many of the farmers had to drive home with empty wagons.

Kincaid is a small town in the southern part of the province. There are a hundred such towns in the drought area. Conditions may be supposed to be more or less common in and around all of them.

These potatoes were not given away. They were sold at 40c per bushel, security being taken on the part of the buyers. The farmers were willing to pay the price and give the security, and anxious to get the potatoes.

The obvious fact is that supplies of this and other kinds of vegetables are not pouring into the relief area in the volume that is needed. That is not to say that the Relief Commission is not functioning efficiently. But the task confronting it is tremendous, and the urgency of getting the supplies and distributing them before cold weather comes may have been underestimated.

The companion picture is that in central and northern Alberta there is a huge surplus of potatoes and other vegetables which are scarcely worth the cost of digging. Acres of these products will be frozen in the ground until a market opens up somewhere in the future.

The drought relief machinery needs speeding-up, and should set itself the task of transferring the surplus vegetables from central and northern Alberta to the empty cask in the dry belt. Every fall of potatoes should be carefully stored in potatoes and other garden produce moving from this district to the needy families in southern Saskatchewan.

Edmonton's Leading Radio and Music Shop Starts Campaign

Fratkin Brothers Have Built Up Big Business During 12 Years Here; Satisfaction Plus Service, Has Always Been Their Motto; Maintain Big
Mail Order Business

Featuring the newest 1932 models in radio of all popular makes, the Art Music Company is now launching its "Fall sales" campaign in these and all kinds of musical merchandise.

Established 12 years ago,
the Art Music Company soon became one of the leading music stores in Edmonton. Today it probably carries one of the most complete stocks in musical merchandise of any similar store in Western Canada.

Victor, Philco, Westinghouse, Brunswick, and the new Warner, short and long wave Radio Sets are always on display in the Art Music Store. Besides Radios, there is a full stock of popular,
Standard and Classical Music, and also "Treasures" Supplies.

There is also a full line of Musical Instruments and one of the outstanding features of the store is the service accorded patrons, being three expert service men.

Give Real Service

It is one of the store's greatest boasts that every machine is sold with confidence and that service can be given every instrument sold, thus guaranteeing the customer satisfaction.

An Acceptor, a radio tube testing machine, has been installed at the Art Music Company's store. Customers are invited to bring their radio tubes for free testing. A specially constructed paper box is given to each customer who brings tubes in to be tested, and assures that the tubes will not be injured in transport.

A. and M. Fratkin, proprietors of the store, are professional musicians and are well-known in Western Canada through their association with many popular musical organizations.

This background enables the brothers to take a direct interest in every piece of the radio they sell, and to be ready to give advice that is purchased. They can answer whatever doubt customers have regarding any instrument and thus the purchaser is assured of receiving complete satisfaction.

One of the largest mail order businesses of any musical store in Western Canada is maintained by the Art Music Company. No matter what article is desired, from a sheet of popular music to a piano, the Art Music store has right kept fully with out-of-town customers by filling every order on the day that it was received.

Give Expert Advice

Problems of country and city musicians are gladly dealt with.
Many district bands have been organized in the last year, and these bands have been successfully started following their purchasing of expert selected instruments from the Art Music Company's Edmonton store.

Carrying a large stock of musical merchandise, Edmon-ton's leading radio and music shop, has steadily built up a big business and throughout the 12 years that the store has been operated in this city. The firm's motto has been "Satisfaction Plus Service."

Lowest Prices in RADIO HISTORY

STRONG CARD OF PRELIMS IN MAT SHOW

Sonnenberg-Kruse Bout
Has Supporting Card
Of Good Quality

The Gus Schnenberg-Bob Kruse headline bout in next Thursday's wrestling show at the Arena will be well supported in the matter of preliminaries in the opinion of Promoter

The promoter has lined up Walter Adams to meet the colorful Mike Bilinski in the semi-wind-up of the show to be decided with one fall or no fall.

but Bilinsky's appeal to grappling fans is well known and they are expected to put on some real entertainment.

For the other preliminary, Mike Cutcher and Maurice DeBileck have been secured. These two are local grapplers and made real hits in their previous showings on account of their speed and aggressiveness.

WHEAT SLUMPS ON RECEIPT OF WEAKER CABLES

WINNIPEG, Man., Oct. 26.—Wheat prices slumped to lower levels on the Winnipeg grain exchange today following receipt of weaker Liverpool cables and as the close lower ranged from one to 1 1/2 cents. October futures for No. 1 soft red winter wheat fell 1/2 cent to 63 1/2, and No. 2 soft red winter wheat fell 1/2 cent to 61 1/2. There also was a pause in export business and consequently lower speculative interest. Trade was much lighter than there was exceptional lack of trading activity and the market held steady.

Trade, chiefly of commission houses, was considerably lighter after the failure of the farm board to issue the promised statement of its wheat holdings.

Each wheat trading was closely with the exception of No. 2 Northern, which interest in all other grades was probably lacking.
